Detailed Office Action

Specification

The specification is objected to for the following reasons:

A) The specification is objected to since the title, "Stand for mobile telephones", describes multiple telephones, where the claimed design is understood to be used with only a single telephone at one time. For accuracy and clarity, the title should be amended to make "telephones" singular.

(Hague Rule 7(5)(a), 37 CFR 1.1067, MPEP 2920.04(a)II)

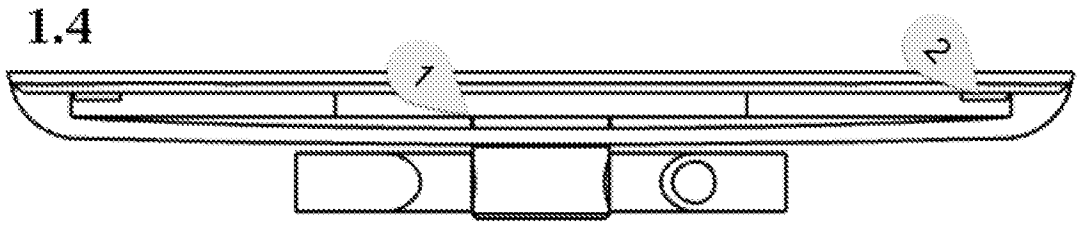

B) Because of the inclusion of reproduction descriptions in the specification, --and described— must be added to the claim after "shown".

(Hague Rule 7(5)(a), 37 CFR 1.1067, MPEP 2920.04(a)III)

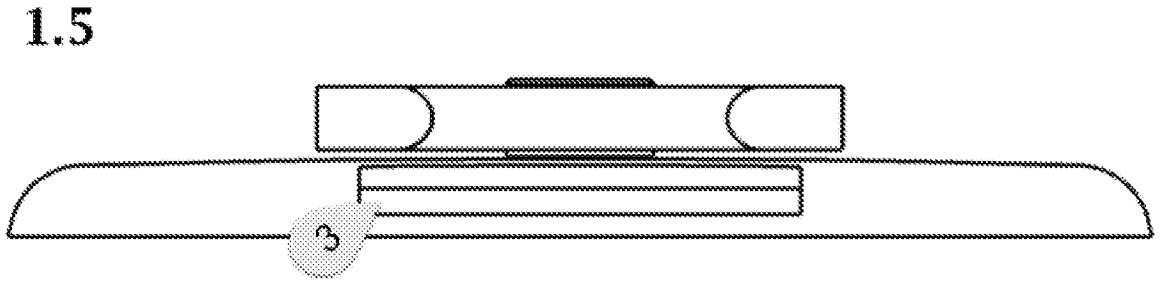

Claim Refusal – 35 U.S.C. § 112(a) and (b)

The claim is refused under 35 U.S.C. 112(a) and (b) as the claimed invention is not described in such full, clear, concise and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to make and use the same, and fails to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claim is indefinite and nonenabling because the exact configuration of the features pointed out below, labeled "1" and "2", cannot be understood from the single view in which they are visible. Specifically, it cannot be determined if feature "1" is a continuation of the ring on the interior of the card pocket, or some other additional structure. Also, it is not understood if the left and right rectangular features (right feature labeled "2") span the vertical length of the interior pocket or if they are shorter than the interior pocket.

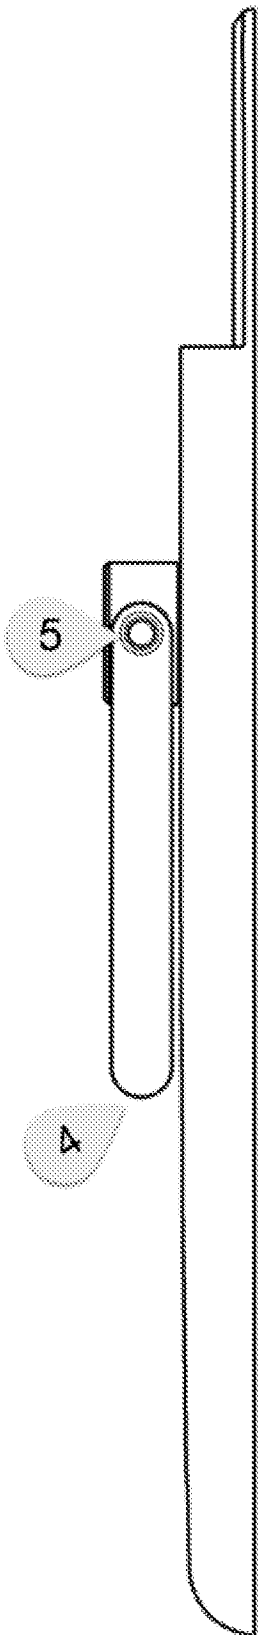

Additionally, the configuration of the bottom feature pointed out below and labeled “3” cannot be understood. Specifically, the significance of the middle line spanning the center of the rectangular feature does not seem to correspond to the feature as shown in 1.1 or any of the other views. If the bottom view depicts interior structure not visible from the perspective view, the exact configuration of that structure cannot be determined in the single view provided.

Furthermore, the bottom of the ring feature, as pointed out below in 1.7 and labeled “4” is depicted inconsistently throughout the views, and therefore the exact appearance of the claimed design cannot be determined. In particular, in the side views, as shown below, the bottom of the ring appears to be curved. In the perspective and back views, the bottom of the ring appears flat.

Finally, the interior structure of the circular feature pointed out below and labeled “5” cannot be determined from the single view provided. Specifically, it cannot be determined what the interior concentric circles visible in 1.7 are showing, since no such structure is shown in the perspective view.

Applicant is advised that to overcome this rejection, no new matter may be introduced that was not shown in the original disclosure, either through the addition or removal of features to the claimed design, including shading. Applicant is reminded that the original drawing disclosure represents the claimed design. All features, elements, and lines as presented are the basis from which examination of the claim is conducted. It is critical that the original disclosure filed with the office be of the highest quality, and be the most accurate rendering of the claimed design as possible. The overall design as well as that of individual features must be rendered in such a way that no amount of conjecture is necessary in understanding the claim. New matter is anything (structure, features, elements) which was not apparent (seen) in the drawings as originally filed. It is possible for new matter to consist of the removal as well as the addition of structure, features or elements. It is possible that the correction of poor line quality, the removal of digital artifacts, or removal of lines showing changes in elevation in CAD drawings, that cannot be clearly understood to be such without resorting to conjecture, may also introduce new matter.

Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. If all the figures on a drawing sheet are canceled, a replacement sheet is not required. A marked-up copy of the drawing sheet (labeled as "Annotated Sheet") including an annotation showing that all the figures on that drawing sheet have been canceled must be presented in the amendment or remarks section that explains the change to the drawings. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action.

Excellent gift

March 7, 2017

Verified Purchase

I just receive this on the mail. Except of the rubber band that was holding the box shut, one had the feeling of opening up a little treasure box.
The wallet case comes covered by a soft pouch. Inside the box? With the case comes a piece of leather to show it is made of real leather, a screen protector for the phone, 2 plastic hangers (1 white + 1 black).
The ring is pretty solid. At least for now it stays in position, doesn't move around. My fear was that holding the case with the ring on my hand would be uncomfortable. It is isn't.
The package suggests is real leather. The case does smell like a shoemaker store, the feeling of the leather might suggest otherwise. The problem with real leather is that it's easy to scratch. On the other hand, scratches do fade away easy as well.
Only one pocket on the back to hold money/cards/etc. Only one pocket is what I've been using this past year, and is plenty for petty cash and a credit card.
Given the presentation and all the extras, this would make an excellent gift.

Ring holder very loose.

July 7, 2017

Verified Purchase

I like this product, but the ring on the back is very loose. It will not stand the phone up. Very dissappointed because I thought I finally found one that would hold my cards. Great idea but sad the ring didn't work.
